Congo will subsidize electricity prices for 5G base stations

Overview

Why should you choose Vodacom Congo?

Thanks to its policy of corporate social responsibility, Vodacom Congo gives its subscribers access to solutions that contribute to the social and financial inclusion of the Congolese people. For more than 21 years, Vodacom Congo has been a privileged and constant partner in the economic and social development of the DRC.

Will enhanced electrification boost Congo's non-oil GDP growth?

The macro-fiscal returns of enhanced electrification are well documented. A recent International Monetary Fund staff report suggests that each percentage point increase in reliable electricity access could add 0.15 percentage points to Congo's non-oil GDP growth (IMF Article IV Consultation, 2024).

Who owns Vodacom Congo?

Vodacom is majority-owned by Vodafone (65.1% holding), one of the world's largest communications companies by revenue. For almost 22 years, Vodacom Congo has put its technology at the service of the socio-economic development of the DRC, providing a wide range of innovative technological products and services.

What is mobile internet penetration in the DRC?

Mobile Internet penetration in the DRC is at 32.3% and Orange and Vodacom's announcement to construct new base stations in the country aligns with the country's new vision for the digital economy as included in the National Digital Plan Horizon 2025 adopted in 2019.
