Is Delta a good company to buy a solar inverter?

With our core competencies in power management, Delta is rapidly expanding into renewable energy, providing best-in-class, high-efficiency solar systems and products including solar inverters and much more. ABB (Power-One) have established themselves as the world's second-largest provider of solar inverters and show no signs of slowing.

Should I install a solar PV system?

Installing a solar PV system is something that you want to get right: after all, you only get one shot at the rebate, and a well-installed system with quality parts can continue to save you money for many years to come. A poorly-installed system or one with cheap components can be nothing but trouble.
